Aeroplane

Reamonn

I saw your name in a telephone book

As someone unlisted someone unknown

I guess you want to disappear

To another world

Where you're left on your ownAnd I know we could close our eyes

And fool ourselves

With nowhere left to hide

I thought that giving up

Would be easier

But it's harder not to tryCause in your heart is a hurt that's growing

You're like a window to my world

Where no begin is where you areI love you like an aeroplane

That's taking me home again

I'm standing here in line

Cause some love just takes timeI love you like an aeroplane

That's taking me home again

If you're searching for the truth

It's in the feelings I have for you

It's in the feelings I have for youThey say

Some things are forever and

Some things they only last a day

It it's not getting better

If it's difficult

Doesn't mean you turn awayI know you live your life

Like a melody

A song that wants to grow

I thought that giving up

Would be easier

But it's harder letting go

Cause in your heart is a hurt that's growing

You're like a window to my world

Where to begin is where you areI love you like an aeroplane

That's taking me home again

I'm standing here in line

Cause some love just takes timeI love you like an aeroplane

That's taking me home again

If you're searching for the truth

It's in the feelings I have for youI saw your name in a telephone book

As someone unlisted someone unknown

I guess you want to disappear
To another world
Where you're left on your ownAnd I know we could close our eyes
And tell yourself
That's there's not much we can do
But I'm not giving up
I'm not giving up
On these feelings I have for you
Yeah these feelings I have for you
