

117 Days

Jamie Lono

Walking down this lonely road
Only one I've ever known
Rain is pouring down on me
But I would never miss a beat
I say if there's a god above
Please make cupid send some love
Tell him that I need a friend
Who will be there forever

And maybe they'll come home this summer
Only one hundred seventeen days
I guess I'll be your eyes
I'll stay without you by my side
But I'll only wait for one hundred and seventeen days (dayyyys...)

Why can't I see me coming,
'Cause I started runnin' runnin'
Runnin' from every every bad thing in my life
Oh, there's no need no need for this ends tonight
And I woke up in the mornin'
Came rushin' to my feet
Something told me it's a new day
Go ahead and spread my wings

And maybe they'll come home this summer
Only one hundred seventeen days
I guess I'll be your eyes
I'll stay without you by my side
But I'll only wait for one hundred and seventeen dayys (dayyyys...)

instrumental melody

Yeah, maybe they'll come home this summer
Only one hundred seventeen days
I guess I'll be your eyes
I'll stay without you by my side
But I'll only wait for one hundred and seventeen dayys (dayyyys...)
Hmmmm
Dayyyys...
Dayyyys...
