

Mine Again

Kevin King

I remember when you used to be mine
Way back when, I was too naive to love you right
 But now if I only had the opportunity
I would do anything because my heart still believes
 Maybe you could be mine again
 Maybe we could make that dream for real
 Like way back then, when love was yours and mine
 Maybe we could bring it back to life
 It's irrelevant to dwell on the past
 I'm accountable for what went bad
 And I mean that, but I keep on praying for another chance
 Just to have you back 'cause I've grown
 And I know how to be your everything
 Maybe you could be mine again
 Babe, we could make that dream for real
 Like way back then, when love was yours and mine
 Maybe we could bring it back to life
 No, no, it ain't over yet
 I just can't accept the possibility
 We were made for each other's arms
I know you're my destiny
 We can't erase what was meant to be
 Part of you and part of me
 If we try one more time
 Maybe somehow we'll survive
 Maybe you could be mine again
 Maybe we could make that dream for real
 Like way back then, when love was yours and mine
 Boy, maybe we could bring it back
 Maybe we could bring it back to life
 Maybe you could be mine
