

Seasons When

Third World

Seasons when yellow leaves fall on our shoulders
Remind you then and even when it's over
Spend time with me in my humble existence
It's ours to share, we're gonna make it worth the time I'm living for the seasons when
I'm living for the seasons when
I'm living for the seasons when
I'm living for the seasons when Our love propels that part of me that's yearning for love
That's wearing true as yours
Envelop me, oh baby, with the charm you have so natural
And share with me love, I know you can I'm living for the seasons when
I'm living for the seasons when
Spring, summer, autumn or winter
We gonna make it all complete
With tenderness, sweet love and warm embrace Seasons when yellow leaves fall on our shoulders
Remind you then, and even when it's over
Spend time with me in my humble existence
It's ours to share, we're gonna make it worth the time I'm living for the seasons when
I'm living for the seasons when
I'm living for the seasons when I'm living for the season
And my life's got so much meaning
I'm living for the season
And my life's got so much meaning
I'm living for the seasons when, oh baby
I'm living for the seasons when

Songwriters

Jarrett Irvin Christopher Published by

RYKOMUSIC, INC. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>