Take a Look

Level 42

I'm a ragged man with a ragged heart

But I wear my soul with pride

You can see me on the road

See me carrying in my homeAnd perhaps it seems that I'm all alone

But I'm happy here inside

You can keep your fancy dress

'Cause to me it don't impressWhen I look in your face

That camera smile looks out of place on you

By the look in your eyes

I can see you realizeSo lend yourself to me

I'll show you what could be Well I've come so far down so many roads

I've experienced your pain

You know that that's a fact

I can see the way you actBut I learned to see what was wrong with me

And I won't go back again

I know I've made mistakes

But I also made the breakYou surround yourself

With secrets you are afraid to show to the world

You convince yourself

There's no other way to go

Don't you see the smile on my face

Does it look so out of placeSo lend yourself to me

I'll show you what could be

Yes I willSo many ways

For you to spend the passing daysLoving and living or losing and using

Life is forgiving so use it well

Feeling revealing or wheeling and dealing

Life's not for stealing and time will tellTake a look at your face

(Loving and living or losing and using)

(Life is forgiving so use it well)

(Feeling revealing or wheeling and dealing)

(Life's not for stealing and time will tell) Take a look at your face

(Loving and living or losing and using)

(Life is forgiving so use it well)

(Feeling revealing or wheeling and dealing)

(Life's not for stealing and time will tell) You must surely know

If man made heaven then man made hell

So take a look at yourself

What's this secret you can't tell me? When I look in your face

I see that smile so out of place on you
By the look in your eyes
I can see you realize, oh yea
