Erasus

Subkulture

I can't take another complication
Have mercy please God erasus
I can't take another complication
Have mercy please God erasusLet me breathe check destroy and upset
On focusing destractions tear me open
All the thoughts in my head are constantly haunting me
I hope that I don't bore you while I whine about it
I hope you won't be saddened while I cry about it
I keep telling myself that there's something more
I keep telling myself that there's something more
I'm lost in this place it's such a waste
I can't watch things further complicate
So if it all fails just throw it back in my face and bury meI can't take another complication
Have mercy please God erasus
I can't take another complication
Have mercy please God erasusEveryday I wake up to stagnant bullshit
As soon as I escape there's more stagnant bullshit
This endless propaganda corporate agenda
I'd like to think there's more something more
I hope that I don't bore you while I whine about it
I hope you won't be saddened while I cry about it
So if it all fails just throw it back in my face and bury meI'm lost in this place it's such a waste
I can't watch things further complicateHave mercy please God erasus
Have mercy please God erasus
I can't take another complication
Have mercy please God erasus
Have mercy please God erasus
I can't take another complicationI can't take another complication
Have mercy please God erasus
I can't take another complication
Have mercy please God erasus
