

Whatever Hurts You Through the Night

Glasvegas

I see you in the night walking past my house
I wonder if you feel the same as I do
Just like me, trapped and bruised and lost and lonely too
You follow the fright of whatever hurts you through the night I saw you tonight walking past my house
I'm sure you feel the same as I do
Caged and scared, black and blue, and black and blue
Then comes a fright of whatever haunts you through the night If there was a way with me, would you runaway?
If there was a way, would you let me take you away? Master plan our escape route
Run and never back we'd look
We could leave behind your past and mine
