

Forgive Me

Missy Higgins

Oh my son, look at what I've done
But I am learning still, learning still
Know that I am learning still And oh my wife, you are my life
And I am burning still, burning still
Know that I am burning for you still And all, all, all of my light is for you
And home, home's anywhere you are too
So take this one fallen man on his knees
Saying, please, forgive me, forgive me Oh my God, how you make it hard
Not to pick the apple, pick the apple
And Lord, I long to give it back And I was on shaky land
Lost and unsure, I opened my hand
And she held it like sinking sand But all, all, all of my light is for you
And home, home's anywhere you are too
So take this one fallen man on his knees
Saying, please All, all, all of my light is for you
And home, home's anywhere you are too
So take this one fallen man on his knees
Saying please, forgive me, forgive me
Forgive me, forgive me
