The Hardest Part

Erasure

Let it fill your heart and throw it all over
Like a flower into the water
Let it fill your heart, let it blow you all over
When you tumble under the waterWhats to come of my life
Dreaming days awayAnd that's the hardest part
Of it all for you
To live your life
With nothing at allAnd that's the hardest part
Of it all for you
To live your life
With nothing at allLet me fill your heart, let me warm you all over
Let me hear your laughter run through the water
Let me fill your heart, let it blossom all over
Like a petal burning the waterI'll spend the rest of my life
Walking through the rainAnd that's the hardest part
Of it all for you
To live your life
With nothing at allAnd that's the hardest part
Of it all for you
To live your life
With nothing at allI'll spend the rest of my life
And my waking daysAnd that's the hardest part
Of it all for you
To live your life
With nothing at allAnd that's the hardest part
Of it all for you
To live your life
With nothing at allAnd that's the hardest part
Of it all for you
To live your life
With nothing at allAnd that's the hardest part
Of it all for you
To live your life
With nothing at allAnd that's the hardest part
Of it all for you
To live your life
With nothing at allAnd that's the hardest part
Of it all for you
To live your life

With nothing at all
