

Better Best Forgotten (Karaoke Version)

Steps

If only you read my mind
You'd see I was hurt inside
A thousand times I've told myself it's over (it's over)
But the story has just begun
And darling what's done is done
It's time to change and leave the past behind Why should we know all the answers
Or how the story ends (so baby) Let's take a chance on a happy ending
(Let's) turn the page and stop pretending
The past can stop a heart from mending
It's time to let go 'cause baby you know
Some things are better best forgotten And baby we can't pretend
In time the scars will mend
Please believe me there's a chance
let's take it (let's take it)
And maybe at last we'll find
That love should be true not blind
You can't deceive a heart that's open wide (And) even now it's not too late
To change the story's end (so baby) Let's take a chance on a happy ending
(Let's) turn the page and stop pretending
The past can stop a heart from mending
It's time to let go 'cause baby you know
Some things are better best forgotten The story has just begun
Darlin' what's done is done
It's time to leave the past behind Let's take a chance on a happy ending
(Let's) turn the page and stop pretending
The past can stop a heart from mending
It's time to let go 'cause baby you know
Some things are better best forgotten

Songwriters

FRAMPTON, ANDREW MARCUS/WATERMAN, PETER ALAN Published by

Lyrics © EMI Music Publishing, Universal Music Publishing Group Song Discussions is protected by U.S.
Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>