

Whispers

Terrateya

The mighty have fallen
The strong have passed by
Bye bye
All empires crumbled
Whats left, only earth and the sky and Whispers
You need to slow your pulse
And tune your ear
Cause theyre just
Whispers
Of a withered heart and
Unconscious fear Every plant has its seed
Every river has its spring
Every crime had a need
That turned into a painful sting
To share with everyone Let men afraid
Lead us to our utter doom
Let blossoms fade
And die in the darkened room
In the cry unheard
In the love deferred
In the righteous scorn
And the nightmares born Now I will crush everyone
My will be done
Or you can say goodbye
So bow to my every whim
I am your king
Youll love me
Or youll die Let men afraid
Lead us to our utter doom
Let blossoms fade
And die in the darkened room
In the cry unheard
In the shame conferred
In the heartless word
In the love deferred Whispers
You need to slow your pulse
And tune your ear
Cause theyre just
Whispers

Of a withered heart and
Unconscious fearThe mighty have fallen
The strong have passed by
Bye-bye
All empires crumbled
With them millions diedLet men afraid
Let blossoms fade
In the cry unheard
