Lemon Meringue

Fishbone

I see you setting up your shot
I'm gonna git out of your range
I'll never sing your sad sorry song
Lemon MeringueSour to the taste
And sweet to the teeth
Death by saccharination
And the criminal charge is the sameA chance to tell the crimes of the cruel
A chance to wave the flag of the fool
But the cross on your road is twisted
And reflects an imageless toolGotta let the taste buds blossom
Sunny side never lost 'em
Easy over born to be clever
So I conclude, you'll never loseCreepin' like a cavity
Waiting for the time to be
Drilled up under the bridge
Who's looking for oil?
Who's diggin' for diamonds?
Who's diggin' for Gold?Lemon Meringue pie
And I must say goodbyeVarmints and vermin writhe down the vine
Too wet to whistle when the moon is shine
Sound asleep when the sun does shine
Watchin' the clock instead of the timeYou can take away the drum
But the beat will never change
Ever charge, ever largeLemon Meringue pie
And I must say goodbyeGotta let the taste buds blossom
Sunny side never lost em
Easy over born to be clever
So I conclude you'll never loseA windless sail and a waterless sea
A rusted ship and a discontinued journey
When will you be what you need to see
Because a mile in your shoes may cause swollen feetPipe dreams sound sweet
That's why the drilling is so deep
The pullout is pain
With a bang, yeah, yeah!Lemon Meringue pie
And I must say goodbyeGotta let the taste buds blossom
Sunny side never lost 'em
Easy over born to be clever
So I conclude you'll never lose
