

Scars

Cemetery

Once upon a time
a time far past you broke my heart and broken it would last... You left your scars and your scars run deep I think of you as I weep But soon the sorrow evolves into the purest love a love to see you dying my angel from above Days filled with confusion nights of endless search in horror you will be weltering as I emerge What you did to me now comes to you
in an act of love
I will run you through I leave my scars and my scars run deep with a grin I turn around and I leave you bleeding on the ground
