Love Has Been Spoken

Building 429

What do you say now
When you're starin' in the mirror after you fall down
Do you feel small when you're too weak to stand at all
You're on your knees now wishin'
You could find a way to hide your fear
It's hard to see hope when pain is all you know

Fearfully and wonderfully made
Don't you know that you and I we're not a mistake
(Don't you know, don't you know?)

Oh, if you could only see His arms are wide open
Oh, it's okay to be humbled and broken
So let your heart be free cause love has been spoken
Don't you know don't you know? Love has been spoken

Hold your head high, you and I were born just to shine this light
No matter what they say, you are loved and you are safe

Fearfully and wonderfully made
Don't you know that you and I we're not a mistake
(Don't you know, don't you know)

Oh, if you could only see His arms are wide open
Oh, it's okay to be humbled and broken
So let your heart be free cause love has been spoken
Don't you know, don't you know? Love has been spoken

Grace rushing over you, His word reveals the truth
This love in us is meant to share everywhere

We're fearfully and wonderfully made
Now you and I we're not a mistake

Oh, if you could only see His arms are wide open
Oh, it's okay to be humbled and broken
So let your heart be free cause love has been spoken
Don't you know, don't you know? Love has been spoken

Love has been spoken
