Learned It From The Radio

Thomas Rhett

How to be proud of that town ain't nobody heard of
How to make dreams, seventeen, some day how to grow up
How to make dust fly out on an old dirt road
I learned it from the radioHow to wake up
How to work tough
How to roll up those sleeves
How to throw down
How to get loud
And what to put in that drink
To give the stars in the sky a little halo
I learned it from the radioIf it wasn't for the speakers in the door
Telling me a truth I haven't ever heard before
I never would have kissed that girl
Never would have known what to say
I would have never know better
How I let her get away
They got the four wheel drive
They got the windows down
And all the DJ's in all those little scattered towns
How to live
How to love
Everything I need to know
I learned it from the radioWhat to say when you think that you've found that girl
Who to call when she's gone and she wrecks your world
How to get over it yeah how to let her go
I learned it from the radio
How to see it all from a front porch
And how to say it all just using three chords
And when to run when your young
When to come back home
I learned it from the radioIf it wasn't for the speakers in the door
Telling me a truth I haven't ever heard before
I never would have kissed that girl
Never would have known what to say
I would have never know better
How I let her get away
They got the four wheel drive
They got the windows down
And all the DJ's in all those little scattered towns

How to live
How to love
Everything I need to know
I learned it from the radio
From the radio
I learned it from the radio
Back when we used to
Burn it up
Turn it upIf it wasn't for the speakers in the door
Telling me a truth I haven't ever heard before
I never would have kissed that girl
Never would have known what to say
I would have never know better
How I let her get away
They got the four wheel drive
They got the windows down
And all the DJ's in all those little scattered towns
How to live
How to love
Everything I need to know
I learned it from the radio
From the radio
I learned it from the radio
Back when we used to
Burn it up
Turn it up
