

Nothing Left

As I Lay Dying

This world was never worthy
But how can I call it the unfaithful
Every promise was fulfilledAs decay crawled from it's throat
Like the dead rising from an open grave
Like the dead rising from an open graveLips of splendor, tongue of deceit
All dying now as our fragile wrists hold only wasteLike those gasping for their last breath
We cannot hide, there's nothing left
Like those gasping for their last breath
We cannot hide, there's nothing leftNothing left
Nothing leftIf all my sorrow has led me here
Then I would cry all of my tears
To have this chance, to have this chance again
To have this chance, to have this chanceAnd know there's more than this
And know there's more than youLike those gasping for their last breath
We cannot hide, there's nothing left
