End of My Rope

Biohazard

Where to run to, where to hide?
Much too full to swallow my pride
But I'm still haunted by something inside
As if another part of me has diedParalyzed, I close my eyes
The pain inside surrounds me
Petrified, life fades away
At the end of my rope I'm waitingSometimes I feel like I'm all alone
Empty inside and out of control
My heart a void, my empty soul
Until it's filled I'll never be wholeHow did things ever get so bad
Sinking empty, full of despair
I find myself alone and scared
In a world where nobody caresParalyzed, I close my eyes
The pain inside surrounds me
Petrified, life fades away
At the end of my rope I'm waiting
Set me freeA hopeless end, afraid deep inside
Relief from my pain, the end a suicide
The tears I've cried have left me blind
I yearn to find peace, a presence of mindWhere to run to, where to hide?
Much too full to swallow my pride
But I'm still haunted by something inside
As if another part of me has diedParalyzed, I close my eyes
The pain inside surrounds me
Petrified, life fades away
At the end of my rope I'm waitingParalyzed, I close my eyes
The pain inside surrounds me
Petrified, life fades away
At the end of my rope I'm waiting
