Even Though

Aaron Neville

Even though we're apart you're still right here in my heart
Your hands are still in mine, I can still hear you whispering words divineI can feel your warm embrace, just the thought of it puts a smile upon my face
But my imagination, whoa I said it's so strong, but reality keep assuring me I'm all aloneBut now from my lips comes a song, with tears in my eyes,
'cause now you're gone, so all your sweet talk.....
Even though we're apart, you're still right here in my heart
My imagination, oh I said it's so strong, but reality keeps assuring me that I'm all aloneMy imagination, oh so strong, but reality keeps assuring me that I'm all alone
