Hundred Reasons

So, strap yourself in again
And do you find yourself able to breathe?
Unhindered we rise to the top again
And they watch as we fall into whole, bottomless
And I lie beneath you
And struggle for air
And I lie beneath you
And struggle for air
And if I could walk on air
I'd see where the wind would carry you, clear from harm's way
You mixed up the words you said
And the sentences don't make any sense, I know, like always
And I lie beneath you
And struggle for air

And I lie beneath you
And struggle for air
And I lie beneath you
And struggle for air
And I lie, yes I lie
Strike the chord that I desire most
Why can't I believe in me?
Why can't I believe in me?
Why can't I believe in me?
(So far from me, so far away)
Why can't I believe in me?
(So far from me, so far away)
Believe in me? So far
Believe in me? So far down
