

Prisoner

Lunik

Sunday afternoon and I just went for a walk
Back in my cocoon I miss our silly talks
It's so hard to let you go
Though there's no reason I should hold you back
I'm glad we said good-bye

Monday morning another week is taking off
And I remember the night we met the first time
When you said: 'gotta light",
I saw your smile and I fell for you right away
That's when I lost my mind- I'm reliving it every day

You didn't stay, I didn't die
My life will go on
A new day has begun without you
I'm tryin not to glorify
It wasn't always fun
After a while I'll even forget your smile

It's Friday and I'm hanging `round in bars with some friends
Suddenly it hits me that you never met them
Of course, it would be nice to have you here with us
I gotta resist the urge to call to hear your voice

You didn't stay, I didn't die
My life will go on
A new day has begun without you
I'm tryin not to glorify
It wasn't always fun

I was yours, I called you mine
A little loan for a little time
I was tempted to keep it
I was struck all of a heap
But the shadows in your eyes, made me realize
That you're in disguise
