Little Fighter

White Lion

Are you cryin' tonight?

Are you feelin' all right?

I told the world that you were down on your luckYou were one of a kind One who'd never give it up

Even when they put a price on your headHas anyone heard the tales you tell

Or seen the scars you wear?

Did anyone speak up when you fell? Does anybody care?Rise again, little fighter

Does anybody care? Rise again, inthe righter

And let the world know the reason why

Shout again, little fighter

And don't let it impair the things you doAnd you were one with the courts

And a reason to be

You were a fighter for peace on this EarthAnd you were never afraid You put your life on the line

And you were always so long out on the seaWithout a weapon in your hand

You came to fight a war

They took your life but didn't know

That you will never dieRise again, little fighter

And let the world know the reason why

Shout again, little fighter

And don't let it impair the things you do Are you feelin' all right?

'Cause I care, careRun along, little fighter

Oh, 'cause I was there beside you

Never stop believin', so rise

Rise, riseRise again, little fighter

And let the world know the reason why

Shout again, little fighter

And don't let it impair the things you doRise again, little fighter

(Don't stop believin')

And let the world know the reason why

Shout again, little fighter

(And keep on movin')

And don't let it impair the things you do

Yeah, don't let it ever end the things you do

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/