

If I Had Your Love

Stevie Hoang

If I had your love I would be rich because no ones ever made me feel like this.not one can compare to the feeling in my airI've been lost since the day an email came my way, its just what you said that made me bleed red.I knew in an instant I could never be distant.I guess thats why I started to cry when I found out the liewhy didn't you warn me about what was coming my way it made me feel like you wanted to playI was scared and didn't understand because you had always had my hand.what I can tell you now, is that I love you.I will never hurt you, I have loved you from the beginning.you made it clear, that I was not the one you held dear,I tried to show you in so many ways sometimes you came around and sometimes you played.whats so important now and I want to make clear is 100% love that I hold so very dear.
