Today Is The Day

Blue Druids

i followed you ..foolishly you were at a smoky bar, you were out til three sat alone inside my car, it was nearly four we were gonna wait for you all night so i locked the doori was gonna spend the night, coulda been okay we were gonna talk all night, till i went away remember how you used to say, can't stay up late a minute later we're older now, i can't stay awake i'm driving by your parent's farm, in the Chevrolet i remember that rusty car, like it was yesterdaysaw my brother driving by, the other day i wished that i'd go out to him, but he drove away saw my sister standing there, standing in rain then i thought about nothing, that it feels the sameanother day, come and gone don't think i can ever sing that song little secrets we bring along i'm taking my time, trailing behind, i thought of you today is the day i think of you
