Avalanche

Soraya

i have spent far too many nights wondering what wrong did i do was it something i said or did my silence haunt you never meant for you to question didn't intend to enrage you say i've got a way with words you say i always run to them tonight i feel abandoned by the muse of my heart tear by tear
i feel us tearing apart
like an avalanche
this love is falling
crushing you and i
will there be survivors
when the storm is over
do you ever remember what it was once like how you would move every mountain just to be by my side now i feel that i must struggle just to get into your mind can't you hear me i'm banging won't you let me in tonight
like an avalanche
tear by tear
