Beg To Differ

Ryker's

you think you have to act different just to belong to the hood you will never get it you'll never be understood you call yourself my brother but i'm searching for what's true friends like you are many and real brothers are few you reached the outer limits you missed the things you tried to achieve but i think you never tried you didn't really believe step back... be true to yourself you cannot be something that you are not it doesn't really matter what you're trying to be it's what you are... not what you're tellin' me do you see what i see?
do you hear what i hear?
do you fell what i feel?
do you ever care?
i... beg to differ!
beg to differ!
