

Serenade

Kamelot

Songs of pain and soothing lullabies
Songs of happiness and some that make us cry
One song we share
The cross we all bear
One that segregates
One that unifies All we wonder
No one ever denies
If once given life we must die So...
Bow down with me
Where summer fades into fall
And leave your hatchets of hate
Bow down with me
And sing the saddest of all
The song we all serenade The more we know the less we understand
Life.. eternity
The savagery of man
We want it all
Aimed at the fall
What is destiny within the masterplan All we wonder
No one ever denies
If once given life we must die So..
Bow down with me
Where summer fades into fall
And leave your hatches of hate
Bow down with me
And sing the saddest of all
The song we all serenade Hold on now
Don't leave don't let it go
Dance away the waltz of life
Right or wrong
The seed we never sow
That's our loss
Our sacrifice What does the winter bring
If not yet another spring So..
Bow down with me
Where summer fades into fall
And leave your hatches of hate
Bow down with me
And sing the saddest of all

The song we all serenade

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>