Serenade

Kamelot

Songs of pain and soothing lullabies Songs of happiness and some that make us cry

One song we share

The cross we all bear

One that segregates

One that unifies All we wonder

No one ever denies

If once given life we must dieSo...

Bow down with me

Where summer fades into fall

And leave your hatchets of hate

Bow down with me

And sing the saddest of all

The song we all serenadeThe more we know the less we understand

Life.. eternity

The savagery of man

We want it all

Aimed at the fall

What is destiny within the masterplanAll we wonder

No one ever denies

If once given life we must dieSo...

Bow down with me

Where summer fades into fall

And leave your hatches of hate

Bow down with me

And sing the saddest of all

The song we all serenadeHold on now

Don't leave don't let it go

Dance away the waltz of life

Right or wrong

The seed we never sow

That's our loss

Our sacrificeWhat does the winter bring

If not yet another springSo..

Bow down with me

Where summer fades into fall

And leave your hatches of hate

Bow down with me

And sing the saddest of all

The song we all serenade

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/