

Step Back

Tailor

You sit on my bed with that stupid face of yours
Telling me all of these things that I heard tim and time before
Its so hard to ignore you
You call every night will that stupid voice tone telling me your so alone begging me to come home tonight
You say babe Iâ€™ve changed but I know that its just for the night

You gotta be kidding me that you think I would belive in this dishonesty
You gotta be given me more then words this time
Before you think Il change my mind
2x Step back step back before I loose my mind

You wait by my door with that creepy smile of your Smell of alcohol you think you know it all tonight
You see I know this will be our last fight

You call every night with that stupid voice tone telling me your so alone
Begging me to come home!
You see I know youâ€™ve not changed for the last time

Mmmm yeah

Chorus:

2x Iâ€™m so over this cant believe I have missed all these good days of my life
