Syncopated Healing

Twiddle

Hey pretty lady let your hair down baby
Shake your booty to the music let the grooves make you crazy
May the rhythm of your body put your mind at ease
All the burdens in your life fly high with the breeze and
You feel the bass vibratin' in your knees
All the rhythms of the world trickle down from the trees
The drums start to rumble with your heart as a whole
It's the power of the music syncopatin' with your soul and.
Do-do-do, do-do-do
Woooah
It's the weight of the world pulling down on your life
When it feels like you're waiting pacing trying to survive
There's a moment when you start thinking to yourself
I gotta get over this I need some help
And shout it out like the rhythm in the sun
Let the good vibrations keep you rollin' on strong
Relax and dream one day at a time
Let the beauty of the music start to heal your life
Heal your life
You wake up in the morning 5: 30 on the clock
Yeah it feels like you're working and you're stressing non-stop
But tonight there's a show gonna get you through the day
Gonna play your favorite songs make your troubles fade away
You're workin' and you're movin' two eyes on the clock
Your shifts almost over yeah it's almost time to rock
Put the pedal to the metal blastin' tunes on 10
Your nights about to start, let the music deep within and
Do-do-do, do-do-do
Wooah
It's the weight of the world pulling down on your life
When it feels like you're waiting pacing trying to survive
There's a moment when you start thinking to yourself
I gotta get over this I need some help
And shout it out like the rhythm in the sun
Let the good vibrations keep you rollin' on strong
Relax and dream one day at a time
Let the beauty of the music start to heal your life
Heal your life
Heal your life

Heal your life
Heal your life
Heal your life
Heal your lliiiiiffffffeeee
