

Not No More

Backstreet Boys

Not No More
Oooh oooh
She stayed with 'em all
But she got her own place
She made me wait too long
But you let me hit the second date yeah
She's always asking me for my
But girl you got your own
I'm always trying to teach her things
But her tricks fooled on
She didn't stick around
But now you hold me down
I've been there and I tell you now girl
She's my every don't
But you are my everyone
That's why she used to be the one I'd fight for
But not no more
She used to be the one I would cry for
But not no more
Cause girl now you are the one I would die for
And that's for sure
I thought I had everything still something was missing
But not no more (not no more)
She'd work my last nerve,
You made it all good she wouldn't do the things I like
But always knew you would mmmmmmmm
I couldn't let you go, I wanna keep it on the low
Cause I never had nothing like this before
And I let you know you are so incredible
That's why I'm telling you
She used to be the one I'd fight for
But not no more

She used to be the one I would cry for
But not no more
Cause girl now you are the one I would die for
And that's for sure

I thought I had everything still something was missing

But not no more

No more wondering just where we stand

No more feeling like I'm the other man

Girl I need to know if you are down to stay

No more should've, would've, could've been

Cause I'm through with yesterday

She used to be the one I'd fight for

But not no more

She used to be the one I would cry for

But not no more

Cause girl now you are the one I would die for

And that's for sure

I thought I had everything still something was missing

But not no more (not no more)

Used to fight for her

But not no more

Used to cry for her

But not no more

I used to fight for her

But not no more

I used to fight for her

But not no more

I thought I had everything still something was missing

But not no more

I used to fight for her

But not no more

I used to fight for her

But not no more
