

Bottle Rocket

Michael McFarland

Everybody thinks they will have a time to shine but everybody's life gets a little weird sometimes so open your eyes, say your goodbyes, watch all the lies disappear cause tonight I've got a bottle rocket pointed at the stars and at last I got it right now the skies are clear it's going up and out of site fire and a fuse to start it burning to the black and tonight I'm sending all of the pain, all of the fear into the atmosphere everybody knows feeling like it's all gone wrong but everything must go when everything that's good is gone and all the missteps on the mend take the mistakes, call them in till the night is falling, hear the countdown and it's on now the skies are clear, it's going out of here cause really I don't care exactly what went wrong

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>