Lakewater Hair

Minnie Driver

Lakewater hair, a sweetest smile seen for a while
In the green tipped afternoon
Triggers up by the moon, there where the night went
Gives you a buzz, gives you second sight
You know that shes the oneLast time you fell in love
Was the first time
Last time you fell in love
Was the first timeLove has a shape, you feel it swallowed down into your head
And surface in your heart
In the late summer night as bending of time
In a million years seems to last all night
She tells you, youre the only oneLast time you fell in love
Was the first time
Last time you fell in love
Was the first timeOh, it gives you something to talk about
Something to hold on to foreverYou said goodbye, half way through the window of a car
And tail lights drowned her out
Go down to the lake and you stay out all night
You get pretty drunk, feel bad inside
Girl was the oneLast time you fell in love
Was the first time
Last time you fell in love
Was the first time
