Nothing Is Mysterious

Kill Hannah

behing the trees on a second new highway i watched her leave, i watched my strength go but this is my own fault, i should have close the vault to my own mind, i should have stayed in line cause nothing's a mystery when nothing is mysterious and nothing could ever leave me now cause is my own stepping stone, and i won't slip off the edge cause nothing could ever change me now up on the hill, behind the mall up on the hill, this is my final call i want to hear the noise, but only with the right ears i want to be complete, but only with the right puzzle piece nothing's a mystery when nothing is mysterious

and nothing could ever leave me now
cause is my own stepping stone, i won't slip off the edge and nothing could ever change me now no one's a mystery when nothing is mysterious
and nothing could ever leave me now
