Give Me a Reason

The Common Linnets

You tell me that you can't make up your mind
You've been riding fences all your life
So go ahead and build your own little boat
Won't you tell me if it floats
And if it don't, don't you cry to meY'tell me maybe I'd be better off on my own
Just wanna hear me tell you baby that you're wrongSo damned tired of all these constant contradictions
Baby getting your convictions
I can't make up your mind (oh no)So why can't you just look me in the eye
The very least you owe me is goodbye
If you want a heartache
I'd give me a reason to run
If you want a love song
Give me a reason to write you oneYou're talking of a love for heaven nothing is safe
Leaving you free in your little cage
Won't you give me just a little piece of truth
It's less about me and it's more about youSo why can't you just look me in the eye
The very least you owe me is goodbye
If you want a heartache
I'd give me a reason to run
If you want a love song
Give me a reason to write you oneSo why can't you just look me in the eye
The very least you owe me is goodbye
If you want a heartache
I'd give me a reason to run
If you want a love song
I'd give me a reason to write you one (2x)
