See You Again

Tonex

Time passes by and the thoughts cross my mind
Will I ever see the light of day?
The hurt and the pain all the sorrow that I feel
Will it cease, is there peace, will it ever go away?
I need to know is this so don?t leave me out in the cold
A place of rest for your soul, tell me I need to know
I thought that I would completely lose my mind
When I heard from a friend, you passed away
I was shocked, I was scared, I was truly unaware
That a wound made at noon ran so deep inside me
Just like my face to a fist, why did it have to end like this?
Maybe just one last kiss
Could you have made your last wish
Just like the winter snow nobody seems to know
When will it come or go, why does it hurt me so?
Then I heard a voice whisper softly in my ear

Telling me not to fear as the tears rolled down my face
This is what it said
"I?m gonna see you again, I?m gonna see you again"
I?m gonna see you again
I?m gonna see you again
I?m gonna see you again, yeah
I?m gonna see you again, yeah
I?m gonna see you again
I?m gonna see you again
I?m gonna see you again, yeah
I?m gonna see you again, yeah
I?m gonna see you again
I?m gonna see you again
I?m gonna see you again
I?m gonna see you again
