

Me Against the World

Beatsteaks

Woke up this morning, it's the same old thing: brother against brother, it's a normal thing, government's corrupt, I see the homeless on the streets, the rich get richer, the poor going hungry, no respect for human life, no respect for mother earth and you're still asking me, why I 'm so bitter, so bitter and angry? This is me against the world, this is me against the whole wide world. I go to bed, it's the same old thing: brother against brother, it's a normal thing, government's corrupt, I see the homeless on the streets, the rich get richer, the poor going hungry, no respect for human life, no respect for mother earth and you're asking me, why I'm so bitter, so bitter and angry? This is me against the world, this is me against the hole wide world.
