Tombouctou

Inna Modja

The Night has fallen
Hunger is rising
Every single month of the year we are struggling
Everyday single day our People are being killed
The Endless War has just began
We won't sit down and shut up
Let our country be conquered by intruders
They aim to conquer the North
They aim to conquer the South
They aim to conquer our soulsThe Day is up
The sun is rising
They sweared they will never ever give us back Kidal
Our Country is broken
Hyenas have come into our homes and will have no Mercy on us
Our people are starting to rebel
We won't unite with these intruders
They aim to break our Fathers
Force our mothers to surrenderThey want to silence our voices
We will keep on fighting, The light is coming
