

Follow Your Dreams, Forget The Scene

Amber Pacific

Youâ€™re more than what you make yourself to be Youâ€™re holding back a side we've yet to see
Youâ€™re buried six feet deep and no one cares
I'll show you how to sweep them off their feet
Forget their ways, they choose to be
Everything thatâ€™s fake and insincere

As wind sets, we'll forget
We'll move ahead, we'll find our way
As wind sets, we'll forget
Itâ€™s not too late

Caught up with the way life seems to make you
Feel as if you say I wonâ€™t make it through
Youâ€™re hanging by a thread when no one seems to care
But you'll find it in your heart I will be there

Stop buying all the things seen on TV
You falling into what they make you think
You've lost the only thing that makes you feel
I'll prove it to the world for all to see
Beneath their smiles, they fear for the Chance they might have missed a life thatâ€™s real

As wind sets, we'll forget
We'll move ahead, we'll find our way
As wind sets, we'll forget
Itâ€™s not too late

Caught up with the way life seems to make you
Feel as if you say I wonâ€™t make it through
Youâ€™re hanging by a thread when no one seems to care
But you'll find it in your heart I will be there

Caught up with the way life seems to make you
Feel as if you say I wonâ€™t make it through
Youâ€™re hanging by a thread when no one seems to care
But you'll find that in your heart I will be there

As wind sets, we'll forget

We'll move ahead, we'll find our way

As wind sets, we'll forget

Itâ€™s not too late

Caught up with the way life seems to make you

Feel as if you say I wonâ€™t make it through

The moments in our lives when all things come to

See the other side stay strong, stay true

Youâ€™re hanging by a thread when no one seems to care

But you'll find that in your heart I will be there
