If Baby's Gone

Athenaeum

Baby don't give a damn about me
Why would she ever need to Cause she's got everything without me
I'm just a rock in her shoeBut then she draws me near to whisper in her ear
I say the things that baby likes to hearBaby won't put her arms around me
I think she's embarrassed to say
That she's been down ever since she found me
I'm just a lull in her dayBut there's nothing she could do that would break my heart in two
Cause baby's got a way of keeping you
And there's nothing she could say
That would push my love away
If baby's gone then i don't wanna stayPlease don't make me live without her
I've lived a life where nothings real and nothing matters
Please you can make it easy on meBut then she draws me near to whisper in her ear
I say the things that baby likes to hear
And there's nothing she could say that would push my love away
If baby's gone then i don't wanna stay
