

Change of Heart

Dean Martin

If the sky can change from cloudy to butterfly weather
And the ocean's roar becomes a lullaby
Why can't you why can't you love me
Have a change of heart and be my apple pie Oh a leopard can't change his spots
And oil and water can't mix
But I have recently heard an old dog learned new tricks If the icy winds that blast us in December
Can in April bring blossoms to the vine
Why can't you why can't you love me
Have a change of heart and be my valentine Why can't you why can't you love me
Have a change of heart and be my apple pie
Oh a leopard can't change his spots
And oil and water can't mix
But I have recently heard an old dog learned new tricks
