Thread

Lo-Pro

I weathered another storm but it's not the last one
I know this isn't over, I know it's just begun
I feel it getting stronger, I see clouds behind the sunBreathe out, take it all in Patience gone south and the cycle begins
I'm running out of words, I'm running out of time
So was it all worth the weight on my mindAnd I start to fall apart
And I'm hurt by what's insideI carried another torch and it's not the last one
I wave a crown of loneliness out of feeling overrun I'm hung up on the ugliness that I cannot overcomeBreathe out, take it all in Patience gone south and the cycle begins
I'm running out of words, I'm running out of time
So was it all worth the weight on my mindAnd I start to fall apart
And I'm hurt by what's insideAnd I feel like it's not just in my head
When I feel like I'm just hanging by a threadAnd I start to fall apart
And I'm hurt by what's inside
And I start to fall apart

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/