

Goodbye For Now

A Change of Pace

And when the smoke clears nothings left
Black ashes still fall from the sky
I see a figure standing far away
And a shadow on the ground, but I don't know why I've lost all hope in you
I want out of this place called home tonight
So goodbye for now
I'm never coming back no, not tonight And life is so dark with your eyes always closed
You'll never see a thing
I never wanted any of this, no not at all
But it will be okay I've lost all hope in you
I want out of this place called home tonight
So goodbye for now
I'm never coming back no, not tonight Bittersweet every touch, still burning in my memory
Can't turn on back the hand of time
Can't make believe that you're still mine
'Cause you're so far away Goodbye for now I've lost all hope in you
I want out of this place called home tonight
So goodbye for now
I'm never coming back no, not tonight All eyes off me, no more pathetic memories
All eyes off me, no more pathetic memories
All eyes off me, no more pathetic memories
