

Serpent's Embrace

Agathodaimon

She was the dawn of a new day
The crystal voice inside my head
And at times she showed me Eden
Untrodden paths, a sky that's bleedingSerpent's embrace
Serpent's embraceDarkness waiting in her eyes
Her gaze, kissed by a fraudulent snake
A soul eater, serpent's embrace
Serpents embraceShe was the dawn of a new day
But all it brought was pure dismayThe sky and sun turned black
Nailed black as ebony
And there was no turning back
No turning backA golden sun in past times
Floating high above
Looking back from now
A collection of strange days for loveAnd at time I realized
Everything must surely end
Some dayDarkness waiting in her eyes
Darkness waiting in her gaze
She gave birth to a worm of lies
A place of shadows mourn
A soul eater, serpent's embraceEvery dawn of a new day
Too far away, but death in cheap
There's a giant, black sun below
Maybe just below the groundAbout six feet deep
Beneath the undertow
Beneath the undertow
