HÃ©ritage

Mashiro

I emptied myself completely to make enough room for you.
Now I trust in you to guide me, whatever you'll have me do.
I know you will make all the right choices, as I lay my life in your hands.
Now my head is full of your voices, and I'd better act on command.Carrying out my duty proud as a man can be, shouldering this responsibility knowing all people will not agree.
Surely they will in the future, but now they won't be able to see, and so they will make me a martyr just like that man from Galilee.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/