Helene (English Version)

Roch Voisine

Two hundred miles from my home a million miles from you Living without you on my own you know it's hard to do and through the night feelings grow you know i need you solighting and thunder may appear but you know im forever here. time will never tear us apart will never leave us broken- hearted. believe in me you know how i really feel my love how i want you nearHelen, things you do Make me crazy 'bout you Helen, when you say good bye it always makes me cry Helen, things you doMake me crazy 'bout you Helen, stay just one more night so you dont have to leave until then end of time Helen, things you do
Make me crazy 'bout you can you stay just one more night can you stay by my side TWO hundred milles from my home and so many miles from you living without you on my own you know its hard to do and through the nite feeling its grow you know i need you so (bis)
