Time's Running Out

Colin Blunstone

TIME'S RUNNING OUT
BlunstoneTime's running out, hold on if you must Time's never been a friend
Time's been running out since time began.You must change with time or time will change alone
While you've been standing still
Everything else will have grown.The answer's easy (the answer's easy) if you try (if you only try)
The answer's right (the answer's right) the answer's why.Don't try to hold her wings back
Don't try to hide your flight
For time is running out and time never lies.The answer's easy (the answer's easy) if you try (if you only try)
The answer's right (the answer's right) the answer's why.
Don't try to hold her wings back
Don't try to hide your flight
For time is running out and time never lies.
