

Mistress of the Bleeding Sorrow

Dissection

Striking over oceans of blood
Over kingdoms in fears
Where the night bred it's cold
Dark the winter drew near Watch the sky, the crimson tears of heaven
The darkened mist of burning hate Ashes of the past, Years that fell into oblivion Visions so dim they had, memories of a time yet to come Watch the sky, the crimson tears of heaven
As damnation reaches the hidden lands Through forest of profanity
The sound of cries
Brought forth by the night sky Invoked by their own tongues
Yes they're truly awake now
The souls that were sleeping under the tree of death And I laugh as I burn down the pearly gates of light
And forever I'll be within the arms of abomination Embrace of eternal dark
With the ancient souls at the sides Wastelands bathed in evil... are one with the blackened sky Watch the sky, the crimson tears of heaven fade to black and welcome the night of all nights
