Last Goodbye

Farewell, My Love

Mother I know that I've done wrong,
Please forgive me so, I just don't think I belong.
Mother you know this life is a game,
I'm just another name in this hell place hole I stay.

so lay me to bed and let me be,

Even if the sun won't rise today, I swear it will another ways, save some face girl, dry your eyes, today is not our last goodbye.

Father I know I'm not ideal,
But the hurt I feel is real,
Let the pain blister heal.

Father the panic sets in deep
When I confess about my dream's knowing how much they don't need to know!.

so lay me to bed and let me be, turn out my head and let me sleep.

Even if the sun won't rise today, I swear it will another ways, save some face girl, dry your eyes, today is not our last good-

No...

Today is not our last goodbye.
