Warm Heart In A Cold World

Dave Barnes

Let your hair down onto this blanket, baby
Let's stare up at this Southern moon
And the stars that are falling, still falling
Oh, baby, I'm still falling
We've been through what we've been through, baby
You and I and these years gone by
And I'm falling, still falling
Oh, baby, I'm still falling
You are the light that guides me home
You are the place where my heart belongs
My only woman, my angel girl
You're my warm heart in a cold world
You're my warm heart
In a cold world
We don't need what we're missing, baby
All I need is to see you smile
I'm falling, still falling

Oh, baby, I'm still falling
You are the light that guides me home
You are the place where my heart belongs
My only woman, my angel girl
You're my warm heart in a cold world
You're my warm heart
In a cold world
We've seen the heartache
Lived through tears
At the end of the world
I'll still be standing here
You are the light that guides me home
You are the place where my heart belongs
My only woman, my angel girl
You're my warm heart in a cold world
You're my warm heart
In a cold world
