Unsingable Name

Mike Doughty

I want to be your absolute ultimate
Want to be your only one now
Feel the wave come up from your sulkiness
Feel the rays you radiate nowSweet and plain unsingable name
That rings in my mind now
That strums me like a string
Shine, unsingable name
Over everythingBeware the thrum of hearts in your presence
And watch the breeze that snaps at you now
All the dogs that bark from the fences
And everything is wanting for youSmirk on the face and fists in the clenches
And make the radiator blow now
Crack the planks and shatter the lenses
And mix the salt, the sugar and flourSweet and plain unsingable name
That rings in my mind now
That strums me like a string
Shine, unsingable name
Over everythingSlushing, sleeting through the blue gloom
Some long bells lonely ring
Chime, unsingable name
Over everythingI want to see the mountains in silhouette
Want to split for Singapore now
I want to see the mystery trees
Want to hear the womanly sound
I want to see the mystery trees
Want to hear the womanly soundSweet and plain unsingable name
That rings in my mind now
That strums me like a string
Shine, unsingable name
Over everythingSlushing, sleeting through the blue gloom
Some long bells lonely ring
Chime, unsingable name
Over everythingSweet and plain unsingable name
That rings in my mind now
That strums me like a string
Shine, unsingable name
Over everything
